Adventure Racing Legend Joins Untamed Adventure Team

Newport News, VA Apr 30, 2007 - Untamed Adventure has added Marshall Ulrich, one of only three people to have raced in all 9 Eco Challenge adventure races, to the leadership team. With race experience all around the planet and endurance records to his credit such as the only unassisted solo crossing from Badwater to the top of Mt. Whitney, Marshall Ulrich will help shape Untamed Adventure courses and organizational direction. Ulrich's exploits have been featured in Outside, Trail Runner, Outdoors Magazine, and more.

"We're excited to tap into his expedition racing experience," noted Untamed Adventure Director Grant Killian. "He's done it all from adventure racing to ultras and mountaineering . . . our events will take on a new dimension with his insight."

As Technical Advisor, Ulrich will consult on course design and race organization. Ulrich will help keep the adventure in Untamed Adventure races.

Shown at left, Ulrich has raced in exotic places such as Morocco and Malaysia and brings thousands of miles of racing experience to the table.

Untamed Adventure's next event, the Untamed Virginia Adventure Race, will take place the weekend of June 9th, 2007. A sold-out field of teams will compete by orienteering, biking, paddling, running, completing ropes challenges, and more over a secret 100+ mile course. Blue Ridge Mountain Sports, Virginia's premiere outfitter, is the presenting sponsor of the race and will host a pre-race dinner June 8th where Ulrich will make his first appearance as part of Untamed Adventure.
